MANY GO FOR THE RIDE

BOYS "OVER THERE" OBJECT TO THOSE WHO COME WITHOUT DEFINITE WORK

There are so many women who are not trained nurses, nor expert cooks, who do not know how to drive or act as mechanician for an automobile, who do not speak French and who yet feel that they are needed in France and are "crazy" to go over there, that the following editorial in "The Stars and Stripes," published for the boys at the front, is commended to their attention. There may not be any of these women in Glendale. If not, Glendale women may know of such aspirants for fame and experience abroad to whom they can give the tip. The editorial is entitled:

COMING FOR THE RIDE

History relates that:

"There was a young fellow named
Hyde,
Who once at a funeral was spied.
When asked who was dead
He just nodded and said:
'I don't know; I just came for the ride.'

"Leaving out the many well-intentioned and loyal people who have come to do real good practical work over here, it seems to us that a good many of our fellow countrymen—most of them in cit's clothes, some in skirts and some even in khaki—just 'came for the ride.'

"What they are doing over here is beyond us. They speak vaguely of 'uplift,' of 'investigations,' or 'co-ordinating branches,' and some even more brazenly speak of 'getting atmosphere'; nothing more. Some, we will let the reader guess the gender, are so naive as to exclaim: 'Why, didn't you know that France is all the rage this year? Everybody's coming over.'

"If that 'everybody' referred to the millions of the national army, all would be well; but we rather imagined that the young lady—you guessed it—who employed the word had reference to 'everybody worth while' or 'everybody in our set.' Now while 'everybody worth while' or 'everybody in our set' have their uses—when in khaki toting a gun or an automatic, or (in the case of ladies) working in hospitals or canteen—we don't see how they can be so very useful if they approach the war in that spirit. People who come over to France without definite, concrete, telling work planned out ahead, people who merely drift over here because they have the drifting money and because 'it's the thing to do,' are really hindering the cause more than they are helping it.

"We are cheerfully foregoing a lot of expected parcels from home because we are told that they take up too much space in ships destined to bring men, steel, beef, and other rock-bottom essentials of war over to us. It doesn't add to our cheerfulness to see our forfeited ship space taken up by a lot of folks who 'just came for the ride.'"

PRACTICAL COURSES

UNION HIGH OBEYS GOVERNMENT REQUEST TO GIVE INTENSIVE COMMERCIAL WORK

In response to the desire of the Government as expressed by P. P. Claxton, Commissioner of Education for the United States, that High Schools throughout the land shall encourage vocational training, particularly through commercial courses, a circular has recently been distributed by George F. Sawyer, head of the Commercial Department of Union High to the juniors and seniors of the school relative to special technical courses. These it is proposed to establish the coming year if there is sufficient demand to justify the provision and they will be open to any adults in the community not high school students who care to avail themselves of the opportunity. In this circular Mr. Sawyer states:

"Probably no other course offers students a better outlook in the way of vocational career than does the Commercial. This is particularly true when the clerical work is viewed as a 'stepping stone' to higher positions and not as a vocation of itself. The stenographer by close association with the head of the administrative department and the bookkeeper by intimate relation to the vital details of a business are both, if of progressive disposition, in line for quick promotion and promising career. These vocations, or combination of the two, doubtless, offer the greatest adaptability and availability of any of the pursuits open to high school students."

In order to give an intensive one-year course in stenography it will be necessary to make provision for two-period lessons. Unless a sufficient number of students either in or out of the school who are able to give that amount of time daily present themselves and justify the establishment of such a double-period class, the department will not be able to provide for it in the program of 1918-19. For that reason the canvass is being made now among seniors, post graduates, and special students. This one-year course is not hard for advanced students and those who are interested are requested to give their names to teachers in the Commercial Department without delay.

The bookkeeping course includes: Bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic and methods of rapid calculation, penmanship, commercial and parliamentary law, business English and correspondence, United States history.

The shorthand course includes: shorthand, typewriting, word study, business English and correspondence, United States history.

REGISTRATION NEWS

Chairman Lanterman reports that but 54 Class 1 men are left from the registration of 1917 in this district and this number includes the men who have been excused from service on account of agricultural work. He also states with pride that Los Angeles County Board No. 7 ranked next to the highest on the list in its percentage of Class 1 men. The expected average is 28.7. Board 17 is above that and so are three or four other Boards in the State. Because of its high average he does not expect that the men in this district who have been placed in deferred classes will have to be re-examined as will be the case in some districts.

He is also of the opinion that no calls will be made upon the newly registered men until all the Class 1 men of the former registration are exhausted.

HONORING MECHANIC ROBERTS

Mr. and Mrs. R. Roberts of 1506 Maple avenue and Miss Laura Roberts, their daughter, entertained with a dinner Sunday evening in honor of their son, Mechanic Louis Roberts, of Company 9, Coast Artillery, San Pedro.

In honor of the event the house was beautifully decorated in the national colors, red and white carnations and blue corn flowers furnishing the floral centerpiece. Flags were everywhere, and the military and patriotic spirit manifest in the talk and in the uniforms and bearing of soldier guests. Covers were laid for Misses Gertrude Kimbley, Edna Kelly, Ida Potter, Aileen Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMillen, Private John Allen of the 9th Company, Sergeant Jesse Flower of Fort MacArthur, Sergeant Don McMillen of the 9th Company, Mechanic Louis Roberts, his parents and sisters.

Following the dinner a pleasant evening was spent with music and conversation.

AMERICANS HOLD POSITIONS ON MARNE

GERMANS FEAR AMERICAN ATTACK AND CONCENTRATE TROOPS OPPOSITE U. S. TRENCHES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 10.—The Americans continue to hold their positions on the Marne, beating off two enemy attacks and capturing points necessary to the new alignment.

The Marines are holding Belleau wood despite desperate shelling by the enemy.

In Lorraine an American observer sees a continuation of the German concentration opposite the American line near Nancy. It is believed the Germans fear an American attack. The Americans are holding forty miles of trenches on the Lorraine front.

BAKER IRON WORKS EMPLOYES STRIKE

METAL TRADES COUNCIL ORDERS WALK-OUT OF OVER TWO HUNDRED EMPLOYES OF L. A. CONCERN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—Between 200 and 300 employes of the Baker Iron Works walked out this morning on a strike called by the Metal Trades Council.

It is asserted by labor leaders that this company has been discharging men for union activities.

Members also state that the company will not pay the wages set by the Emergency Fleet Corporation for shipyard employes.

There has been no disorder at the plant.

The concern is filling government contracts for supplies used by shipbuilders.

The entire crew of the Pinar del Rio is now accounted for.

74 IN CASUALTY LIST

SAN FRANCISCO BOY AMONG FORTY-SIX REPORTED AS SEVERELY WOUNDED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Today's casualty list includes the names of thirteen killed in action, five deaths from wounds, one death from disease, two accidental deaths, 46 severely wounded, seven wounded to an undetermined extent.

Lorenz Hitzeroff of San Francisco is among those severely wounded.

NEW GERMAN DRIVE SLOWS DOWN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, June 10.—The new German drive between Montdidier and Noyon slowed down before the French resistance last night.

Gains of about a mile were made in the French center and left compared to the three-mile penetration of the initial thrust.

On the French left several violent German attacks collapsed.

The French right held solidly and 500 prisoners were taken east of Zille.

The present drive is believed to constitute the northern arm of a great encircling movement aimed at Paris. The movement starting from the Avre is being pushed southward as far as possible toward Paris to co-ordinate with the southern enveloping attack from Chateau-Thierry.

The enemy seeks to encircle the Americans and French between Montdidier and Chateau-Thierry, military officials believe.

The Germans have fully fifty unengaged divisions for use in the present effort.

The determined resistance of the French on the entire twenty-mile front gave the allies time to rush up reserves before any appreciable ground was lost.

Simultaneously the French and Americans advanced north of Chateau-Thierry again, capturing 250 prisoners and 50 machine guns.

LABOR MEN TALK OF WINNING WAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 10.—Labor's part in winning the war is the chief topic of discussion at the annual national convention of the American Federation of Labor, which opened in the municipal auditorium here today, to remain in session until June 22.

For the first time in the history of the federation, it is said, the federation convention was not addressed by the governor of the state in which it met. J. A. A. Burnquist, governor of Minnesota, was not invited to welcome the delegates, as a result of long standing feeling between him and the Minnesota Federation of Labor.

BOYS AND GIRLS HELP

CHILDREN'S CLUBS PROVE THAT HOGS CAN STILL BE RAISED WITH PROFIT

"Can the California farmer make a profit by feeding pigs for the market at the present price of feed? This is the question which is in the minds of every one interested in raising hogs," says one of the advisers of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, who states that it is probably the question which is most debated among farmers, particularly since the Food Administration and the College of Agriculture have asked that pork production be materially increased for contribution to the food supplies of our armies. He further says:

"Several boys' agricultural clubs have completed their big feeding contests within the last few weeks and furnished strong evidence that hogs can still be fed at a profit. The results were compiled from records made by both high school and elementary school students who live on farms of every type of agriculture, from Stanislaus county to the Imperial Valley. The boys fed farm feeds, they started with weanling pigs, charged market prices for their pigs, feeds, labor, etc., whether they had to pay for them in actual money or not.

"The feeds given were everything which a hog will eat, but in all cases grain, tankage or their equivalent, and hay or pasture of some kind were given. In other words, the fundamentals of hog feeding were practised. There is litle doubt that under average conditions profit can be made if those fundamentals are still practiced and if the pigs are of good stock. It has taken the boys and girls of agriculture clubs to demonstrate by 'show me' methods to doubting farmers that a profit can be made from raising the Liberty Pigs which the farm bureaus have asked us to produce.

"It is not intended to critize or comment at length on the figures except to state that all of theme are taken from records, on file in the State Leader's office, of the boys and girls who have raised these pigs, and that they have been passed by competent local farmers, who have in each case acted as judges. All of the pigs were sold at public auction at the prices indicated and no regard was taken for their value as breeding animals, though many of the hogs were kept as such.

"The demonstration showed that the average cost per pound of gain was 12c and that the average total cost was $20.48, which includes the original cost of the pig, feeds, labor, etc., while the average price at which they were sold was $16.50 per 100 lbs., or one dollar below the present market price, making a return per pig of $33.24 and leaving a profit of $12.76 per pig; also that where the profit was made there was over a pound per day gain with the pig finishing at 201.5 lbs. Farmers can follow the same principles which these boys used and secure the same results. Names and addresses of the boys who secured the results will be supplied on request."

DID HIS DUTY

Otto Kirby of Camp Lewis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Kirby of Burbank, was on picket duty a few nights ago, when he discovered a man climbing up on one of the water tanks. Otto cocked his gun and called to the man to come down. Instead of obeying, the fellow continued to go up the tank, thinking, perhaps, that he could run a bluff on the young soldier. Otto commanded the man a second time to come down, and upon his failure to do so, let him have a bullet through the head. Upon the body was found a sufficient quantity of poison to have killed a thousand soldiers, had it been put in their drinking water.—Burbank Review.

VETERANS WILL WRITE TO SOLDIERS

At the regular beeting of N. P. Banks post held June 8 a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered all so ably assisting in the Memorial services, both at the hall and in the cemetery.

It was also suggested that members of the post write to our boys in France words of cheer and encouragement, knowing from their own experience how the soldiers at the battle front are grateful for the remembrance of those at home. To this end a committee was appointed to receive and transmit such letters on behalf of the Post.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Slightly cooler. Cloudy near the coast. Light westerly winds.

VOLUNTEER WANTED

WOMAN TO HAVE CHARGE OF COATS FOR CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT ASKED

One of the very busiest places in town is the headquarters of the conservation committee of the Junior Red Cross, 914 West Broadway, of which Mrs. H. V. Brown is chairman. Here an immense amount of old clothing is being transformed into serviceable garments by being repaired or making new garments out of the unworn portions of old ones. To the onlooker it appears hopeless to try even to classify the immense piles of clothing that are stacked in the conservation rooms, but Mrs. Brown and her loyal workers are bravely on the job every day and tons of serviceable clothing are turned out for the French and Belgian refugees.

During the past season the High School has had charge of the coats, but with the coming of vacation some one is needed to look after that work and Mrs. Brown is asking for a volunteer.

Another shipment of garments is to be made the latter part of this week and Mrs. Brown asks that all garments now out be returned in time to go with this shipment. She also asks that all committee chairmen meet tomorrow afternoon at the workroom.

KENSINGTON CLUB MEETING

The Kensington Club, which is made up of members of the Woman's Relief Corps of the N. P. Banks Post, were entertained by Mrs. Louise Purnell at her home on West Tenth street on Thursday last, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Edith Bruck, Mrs. Gertrude Griffin, Mrs. Winona Crawford and Mrs. Jennie Phillips. The spacious home was beautifully decorated with red roses and a patriotic touch was given by displaying the national colors in appropriate places.

The knitting of garments for our boys "over there" occupied the afternoon, during which the following program was rendered:

Vocal solo—Mrs. George Herald.
Piano solo—Miss Esterly.
Vocal solo—Winona Crawford.
Trio—Elizabeth Mottern, Helen and Emma Esterly.

All the numbers were well rendered and roundly applauded, drawing forth much-appreciated encores, especially the trio by the Misses Mottern and Esterly.

After a brief business session refreshments were served to the fifty or more guests in attendance.

The meetings of the Kensington Club are held the first Thursday in each month at the homes of members and for purely patriotic purposes.

THE SHREWD ADVERTISER

Circulation is what the shrewd advertiser considers when he is buying space in a newspaper . Merely getting an advertisement placed in type counts for nothing to the advertiser. The possible good derived from the advertisement is governed by the number of readers the paper has.

The modern and alert merchant inquires about the circulation as carefully as the buyer of merchandise inquires about the quality of goods, full count, weight, etc.

The subscription lists of the Evening News and the Sentinel-Progress are open for the inspection of our patrons.

RAIN IN DESERT

Sunday and this morning foothill towns suffered from a humid heat which advertised to those who understand conditions that rain was falling on the desert east of here. About noon a few drops fell in Glendale but they were soon dried. While this unusual weather condition is hard to bear, ranchers prefer it to the hot dry wind which sometimes afflicts them at this season and which last year was so intense as to practically destroy the newly set oranges in many localities. They are praying to be spared this year.

IVANHOE BRIDGE

The immediate approaches to the Ivanhoe bridge have been completed, the coating of asphalt has been laid and the structure is now in use. Until the Brand boulevard approach is paved and the continuing boulevard between the bridge and Lake Shore avenue is improved, it will not be a popular route because the road is rough. That responsibility is up to the City of Los Angeles, which has established the grades and done the preliminary work, and now the general public is hoping it will get down to the practical construction.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, JUNE 10, 1918

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS CAMPAIGN OPENS JUNE 11

Mr. Cowan, Editor Glendale Evening News:

I noticed in your paper of Saturday that a Thrift Stamp drive is about to commence. Now, as a man of moderate means, it seems to me that having bought bonds and given to the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., I have done my share. My children are buying Thrift Stamps at school and I understood that Thrift Stamps were to be bought by them, and when they had sixteen they were to buy War Savings Stamps. It is all right for them to save their money and buy the stamps. I want them to do it. I even give them extra money for that purpose, but I can not see why buying bonds does not take the place of the stamps for me and my wife. You said we were to buy $20 each. Why, that is almost another bond and if I could have afforded it I would have bought it. I am sure there are others who feel the same, and I would like to know all sides. Thank you. A SUBSCRIBER.

The letter given above was turned over to Mr. Howe's committee for answer. Of course, all sides of the Thrift and War Savings Stamps can not be given in one issue, but if "A Subscriber" will follow the W. S. S. campaign beginning June 11, he will probably be convinced that the Government is wise in establishing this new method of saving. Here are a few facts in answer given by one of the committee:

When the War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps were instituted with the definite end of purchasing ships with the money, a more subtle but none the less definite purpose was in mind.

The United States has for years been calld "The Nation of Spendthrifts" by our European neighbors. It was often said that a French family could live on what an American family of like size threw into the garbage pail. Money was "easy come, easy go" with adults and children alike. In other words, we were known as thriftless. We spent money freely on a thousand articles that perished with one using, if they served to furnish any ephemeral joy: candy, cigars, gum, roller coasters, joy rides and countless other balloons which needed only a pin-prick to end them. We were not taken seriously, when it came to spending money.

Now this is what Uncle Sam sought to undo. And in its place, the government intended to instill habits of thrift so strong that not only would the W. S. S. fund be raised but thrift habits would place us in a position after the war to be competitors economically and commercially with any nation.

The children of the United States have responded beyond expectation. Uncle Sam does not intend that they shall forfeit all pleasures. The government knows that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," as is witnessed by the arrangements for sports and relaxation made for the soldiers. But Uncle Sam does want unnecessary luxury-buying stopped, and wiser expenditure of money made. Uncle Sam, too, wants every citizen, man, woman and child to have a part in this war to back the boys of the country who are giving their lives. Taxes and bonds are furnishing investments for accumulated savings. This third plan, the W. S. S., is to make everyone a part of the national defense by offering a place for the bits we save by personal sacrifice. The gum we do not chew, the cigar we do not smoke, the soda we do not drink, the car ride we decide is unnecessary, all furnish bits, and it is surprising how soon the bits count up. Even treats and tips may be added with the consequence of giving a good reason for cutting out what we always wanted to cut, but never could quite get to.

These are methods of saving. The children and women and men as well are fast finding methods for adding to these funds by odd jobs in odd times. No one is too proud to work now-a-days.

(The Committee urgently requests that suggestions and experiences along this line be sent the Committee through this paper.)

It is, in fact, a saving of the gleanings.

If this does not answer "A Subscriber" the Committee would be glad to furnish him with government literature on the subject or have a personal interview. It is evident from his former policy that he is with the government and only needs enlightenment.

Remember, the W. S. S. drive starts tomorrow, June 11. You will be asked to tell how many purchases have already been made by the members of your family and also you will be given the opportunity to sign the pledge for your allotment, the payment to be made in installments.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

EUREKA, Cal., June 10.—Three hundred and fifty delegates representing 107 California lodges of Eagles were in Eureka today to open the fifteenth annual state convention of their lodge. The vanguard arrived by special train last night and today the remainder came by train and by automobile. The session had its formal opening at 10 o'clock this morning when Mayor George W. Cousins and President Thos. H. Selvage of Eureka Aerie made addresses of welcome which were responded to by State President Chas. W. Lyon and Past State President Herbert Choynski. The first business session followed an hour later and the work of the convention was organized. During the afternoon the ladies accompanying delegates were entertained with an out-of-doors affair at Sequoia Park and tonight the first convention dance will be held. An elaborate program of entertainment has been provided for the week but all its features have been governed by a realization of war demands for economy. War questions will temper the business sessions as well as the social features, members say. The election of officers, to be held at the close of the session, is expected to result in the elevation of State Vice-President Warren Shannon of San Francisco to the presidency, while E. J. Sanford of Ukiah, state chaplain, is in line to succeed Shannon.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The Women's Army of San Francisco started a week's campaign today, selling war savings stamps. During the week every home in San Francisco is to be visited and pledges asked toward the $8,000,000 worth of stamps the government has asked San Francisco to buy before June 28.

PALO ALTO, Cal., June 10.—Ten thousand soldiers joined with Mme. Schumann-Heink at the Stanford University Stadium here yesterday, in the greatest song festival northern California has seen. Thousands of persons in the audience were thrilled with the swelling chorus of soldiers' voices as they joined in the patriotic and popular music of war times. The proceeds of the event went to the Camp Fremont athletic fund and to defray the expenses of a Stanford nurses' unit to France.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—There was no fog on San Francisco Bay this morning the fog-horn moans arising from the east bay shores being only the lamentations of commuters. For today the 10-cent ferry trip by any route excepting the Key System vanished. Hereafter it will cost 11 cents to go to Oakland, Berkeley or Alameda and trips between stations on electric trains or the straight ferry trip alone, will cost six instead of five cents. The rates were raised under the ruling of Director-General of Railroads McAdoo directing railroads of his administration to increase fares ten per cent. Other rates were increased proportionately by the lines in this district. But the commuters felt it first when they had to dig up that extra penny for the early morning trip.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 10.—One thousand eight hundred twenty-two lives is California's quota of the 100,000 children's lives which must be saved in the United States this year. The campaign to accomplish this result is now being waged throughout the state by the California Women's Committee of the councils of national and state defense. The program under which the committee is working is: A year's campaign on better birth registration. More intelligent use of the clean milk law. Establishment of children's health centers. Permanent community public health nurse. Necessity of better pre-natal guidance. Better understanding between the family budget and good health in California.

Forty per cent of the meat furnished the state institutions in the next year will be No. 1 fat cow and heifer instead of all choice No. 1 steer, if the recommendation of State Purchasing Agent McMillin is adopted by the state board of control. The specifications now preclude the delivery of any but No. 1 steer. In sending specifications for next year's meat supply, McMillin also enclosed a letter asking the packers to submit a figure for No. 1 fat cows and heifers. He believes three cents a pound can be saved by using cow and heifer carcasses, which would mean a yearly saving of $50,000. The state's annual fresh meat bill is nearly a half million dollars. "I'm not advocating feeding a poor quality of food to the inmates of state institutions," said McMillin, "but I don't believe in feeding the inmates something better than the average family can afford. That is going beyond the pale of good common sense."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 10.—Over $8,000,000 worth of commerce passed through Los Angeles harbor during April, according to the harbors commission's report filed today. The inbound commerce was $5,620,047 and the outbound $2,454,285.

From Vladivostok, Ciberia, a letter has come to the "Chief Official of Los Angeles" written by Miss Olga Petrovich, asking how to reach Los Angeles. She says she "wants to come to beautiful California to forget Russia and the horrors of war and settle down, perhaps, some day as a happy wife and mother."

McADOO URGED TO ACT ON LOS ANGELES TERMINAL

A letter has been forwarded to W. G. McAdoo, director general of railroads, by the City Planning Association of Los Angeles, urging him to authorize the California State Railroad Commission to proceed with its survey for terminal unification in Los Angeles. The railroad commission has seven engineers engaged on this work, which is now about half completed, and announces that it can have a preliminary report ready in about five months. An appropriation of about $40,000 has been made for the preparation of this report, the cost being shared equally by the railroad commission and the city of Los Angeles.

What Kind of a Quarter Is Yours?

—a quarter hoarded is a slacker.
—a quarter wasted is a traitor.
—a quarter saved is a patriot.

A hoarded quarter represents idle power; a wasted quarter represents wasted power; a quarter saved and invested in Thrift Stamps represents power, labor and materials in action, on the firing line, over the top.

POLICE NOTES

Mr. Blanchard of West Ninth street, who was arrested some time ago for a violation of the civil code and who was released on his own recognizance pending a decision on his case, which was to be given Wednesday by Judge Lowe, has again been arrested on another charge for the same offense.

Theo Gerhaar of 559 Oak drive was arrested for shooting a 22-caiber rifle inside the city limits in violation of ordinance. He was shooting in the direction of a woman and little girls whose lives were said to be endangered. He is about fifteen years old and claimed he was shooting at a target.

Paying your income tax does not make a hero of you but it will make you feel good inside.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Furst, 200 North Isabel St., visited relatives in Los Angeles over the week end.

Trustee G. B. Woodberry and Freeman Kelley have gone by auto to Fresno on a business trip. They are expected home Thursday.

Mrs. Lorena Cramer of 553 East Acacia has given another son. Paul Cramer, who is but eighteen years of age, has enlisted in the Navy and is now at San Diego awaiting transfer. Her son Wallace is in France.

Jesse Chappius of 528 East Acacia, who went to Thornycroft last week where he underwent an operation, has been brought back to his home and is recuperating rapidly. He is sitting up and expects soon to be in normal health.

Miss Gladys Hamilton of 527 East Acacia avenue reports the receipt of a card from her brother Donald announcing his safe arrival in France, and she hopes soon for a letter giving more detailed information about his voyage and his present surroundings.

A number of Glendale people are going to Los Angeles tonight to witness the presentation of the play "A Modern Romance" by the Modern Drama Players at the Ebell Club Auditorium. Joseph Griffin of this city will take a leading part in the production.

Miss Emma Moniot has received a letter from her cousin, Miss Clara Whitney, a telephone operator who formerly resided in the south part of Glendale. She is a telephone operator in France now and writes from Paris with enthusiasm of the beauty of the city and the interesting sights.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith of 146 South Maryland avenue, their son Wayne, Grace Beach, Vivian Ott and Dorothy Hobbs motored to Long Beach Sunday, where they spent the day. The report that a nice breeze kept the day very comfortable and that all the party had a delightful outing.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Taylor of 1318 West Ninth street accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Grover Taylor of Hawthorne street on a week-end trip to Tulare county, where they have relatives whom they visited. They left Thursday morning very early and got back Sunday afternoon and report a delightful outing and journy.

Al Moniot, who completed his course in electrical work at the San Francisco training school, came home on a brief furlough and returned to San Francisco last Tuesday in the expectation of being sent to Virginia and there receiving his commission as Sergeant. He anticipated being in training there for three months.

Mrs. E. O. Keppler and her son Lester Keppler, of West Tenth street, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Beckett, motored to Redlands Thursday, where they had an enjoyable visit with Mrs. Keppler's cousin, Mrs. John Richards. Mrs. Beckett and Lester Keppler returned Friday and Mrs. Keppler Sunday evening.

A very nice musical program has been secured for the meeting of the Tuesday Club this week. It will include numbers by Miss Lois Jones, harpist, by Seymour Thompson, a violinist, and Mrs. R. E. Heath, a singer. There will be a business session at which plans for the annual luncheon and other important matters of business will be discussed.

Charles Fillhower of Newark, New Jersey, and his two daughters have recently moved to Glendale from Newark, New Jersey, and located at 625 North Louise street. They say that business in nearly all lines is booming on the Atlantic coast and that labor is scarce. They have made the transfer to this coast for a change of climate and scene.

Mr. Rowly reports a splendid donation to the Salvage Department of the Junior Red Cross from B. Kelly, a railroad man of this city who has just joined the Canadian engineers and broken up his home here, his wife going to her parents in Long Beach. On Saturday he gave 1200 pounds of papers which he has collected, an assortment of kitchen utensils, garden tools and implements, copper, metal junk, pictures, etc. When assorted and placed where they can be sold to the best advantage these objects will yield quite a sum to the organization.

SOCIETY VAUDEVILLE

More than one hundred children are to take part in the Third Annual Society Vaudeville to be given by the Pearl Keller School of Dramatic Art and Dancing of this city at the Palace Grand Theatre Monday evening, June 24th. So many are there that Mrs. Keller has had to secure two tents to be used for dressing rooms by the children outside the theatre. The pupils range in age from three to sixteen years and the program will include three complete ballets of ten children each, interpretative dancing, dramatic dancing, songs, recitations, characterizations, etc., and a grand patriotic finale. Glendale children have been preparing for this for a long time and it will be a big event.

DEATH OF FANNIE B. REPPY

Mrs. Fannie B. Reppy, wife of Charles D. Reppy, is dead at her home, 115 North Ellis avenue, Eagle Rock, where she has lived for the past eighteen months. She was born in Kansas City, Kas., August 20th, 1866, and came to California about three years ago. Funeral services will be held in the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors on Broadway, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made at Rosedale Cemetery in the family lot.

CLASS PICNIC

Fifth grade pupils of the Columbus avenue school under the instruction of Miss Berry enjoyed a picnic at Brookside Park Saturday, a number of the parents being guests. The children participated in all the sports of a picnic, including bathing in the pool. Mrs. H. V. Brown of the conservation committee of the Junior Red Cross had provided entertainment for the ladies in the shape of work on conservation garments and much was accomplished, the ladies enjoying the work in the open air as much as the children did the sports. A picnic luncheon was served.

ABSENT MINDED

Sunday afternoon a Japanese woman, Sister Kasedo, who was a passenger in an auto bus running on San Fernando road, suddenly left her place and without signalling to the driver jumped out of the vehicle. A police officer of the city who was standing at the junction of San Fernando and Los Felis road witnessed her act and picked her up and took her to the Mission Rest House on San Fernando. She was stunned by the accident and suffered a slight concussion of the brain, but recovered and was able to go home in about an hour. She is a Sunday School teacher and mission worker under Father Detton of Los Angeles, according to the report given by the manager of the Mission Rest Home.

MURDERED BY SPEEDER

William McCallam of East San Digo is lying at the point of death at Thornycroft Hospital as a result of his kindness to a boy and effort to shield him from harm. The accident from which he will probably lose his life occurred on the 5th inst. at San Fernando and Los Felis boulevard. He was coming south and had allowed the boy, John Smith of 304 Paso Robles street, Pasadena, to coast alongside and towards the rear of his car. They were going at a reasonable rate when presently a speeder going at 60 miles an hour approached them. Fearing that the boy might suffer harm, McCallam gave his car a quick turn away from the direction in which the speeding machine was coming, the auto overturned and crushed him beneath it. The hospital authorities have little hope of his recovery. He is about fifty years of age. His wife is with him. Officers are endeavoring to locate the speeder with little prospect of success.

CASA VERDUGO 23 YEARS AGO

Casa Verdugo 23 years ago, in 1895, owned by R. P. and J. D. Bliss, comprised 360 acres. C. D. Fisher was foreman at that time. At present he resides in Los Angeles and is a particular friend of F. Booth of Glendale.

Mr. Fisher gave Mr. Booth some very interesting facts relating to Glendale as he knew it 23 years ago. There were only eight or nine residents in the neighborhood at that time, comprising the Garslines, Andersons, Capt. Thoms, Judge Ross, Waddingtons, Flash and Duttons. A terminal narrow gauge line ran up Glendale avenue to Verdugo Canyon before the Salt Lake Railroad took it over. He speaks of old residents he was familiar with in those days, some of whom are still alive: Sherers, Lukens, Logan, Coleman, Cornwell, West.

Central avenue was about the only good road then. Coyotes were constant visitors from the foothills.

FOOD CONSERVATION

The Food Administration for California sends out a pamphlet on "Wheatless Recipes," compiled by Charlotte P. Ebbets, Director of Department of Home Economics, from which the following recipes are compiled:

Barley Sponge Cake

Barley flour, 1 1-3 cups
Sugar, 1 cup
Eggs, 4
Lemon juice, 1 tablespoon
Salt, ⅛ teaspoon

Rice Sponge Cake

Rice flour, ¾ cup
Sugar, 1 cup
Eggs, 4
Lemon, 2 tablespoons
Salt, ⅛ teaspoon

Separate whites and yolks. Beat yolks until thick and light lemon color. Beat sugar into stiffened yolks and add lemon juice. Fold in alternately the stiffly beaten whites and flour. Bake in ungreased pan for 35 to 40 minutes. Start in a moderate oven and when half done raise temperature to hot oven.

Spice Cake

½ c fat
2-3 c sugar
1 c corn syrup
3 eggs
¾ c milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon ginger
6 teaspoons B. P.
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon allspice
3¾ c barley flour
1 c raisins

Cream fat, sugar and egg yolks. Add syrup and mix well. Add alternately the liquid and dry ingredients sifted together. Add flavoring and fold in well-beaten egg whites. Bake 1 hour, starting in moderate oven. After twenty minutes raise temperature.

In this same pamphlet are about twenty different recipes for combination substitute muffins, using barley, oats, buckwheat, corn, rice, etc. With such a list of substitutes it should be an easy matter for America to save wheat to send to our allies.

"Food will win the war! Food today means first of all, wheat."

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

CAMPAIGN OPENS

TUESDAY, JUNE 11

This great campaign opens tomorrow and continues up until June 28, when everybody will be asked to pledge the purchasing of W. S. Stamps for the ensuing year.

This is everybody's campaign---old and young, rich and poor may engage in this patriotic money-raising drive.

However great a sacrifice we may make, it does not compare with the sacrifice the men at the "front" are making. The purchase of Thrift Stamps is not a donation---it is a soldier-supporting investment---a real patriotic investment.

Next Tuesday is a Hart night at the picture show, "The Apostle of Vengeance." Doesn't that sound like a thriller. It is, too. The story is laid in the Cumberland mountains of Kentucky. David Hudson (Hart) has been brought up in New England and has no patience with the feud ideas of his family. This feud is so old that it dates way back of the Civil War, and each succeeding generation of the Hudsons and McCoys takes it up in turn. Zack Hudson (David's father) is killed by a McCoy and the feud breaks out once more. David receives two letters at his home in Ferndale, Mass., one to notify him of his appointment as minister at Starkville, and the other of his father's death, in which his brother Willie pleads with him to return and wipe out the McCoys. After much deliberation he decides the Kentucky call is the stronger and goes home to "teach them the ways of God." When the news comes to the family that David will return, Willie tells the mountaineers that the McCoys won't last long now. Dave returns home and is branded as a coward because he refuses to carry on the feud with firearms but instead wishes to teach the people "the ways of the Lord." How he establishes everlasting peace in Breathitt county is shown in the soul-stirring episodes of "The Apostle of Vengeance." This is a new one of Hart's and a particularly impressive picture. Don't miss it. There is a new leading lady, too, Ruby Adams. She is just three years old and she's a "cute little trick" at that.

The war bread sent out by our bakers is anything but good, and many of us are forced in self defense to make our own bread. We have found that we can make "war" bread fit to eat and those who are eating the same none the wiser for the substitutes. The use of too much barley flour will make a soggy bread seemingly undone in the center. All breads having barley, rye, or oatmeal, need a slow steady fire and at least an hour of baking. If the oven is hot when first put in, the crust will harden and it will be "doughy" in the middle. A good bread may be made of rice, barley and wheat flour. For two loaves, a cup of rice flour, scalded, one of rye, and the rest of wheat flour, gives one a dainty, delicious bread, unlike that we are buying. A cup of mashed potato may be added.

The many friends of William E. Smythe, founder of the Littlelands movement, will be grieved to hear of the death of Mrs. Smythe at San Francisco last week. The funeral is taking place at San Diego this Friday, June 7th, where the home of the family has been for many years. They were schoolmates at sixteen, engaged at nineteen, and married at twenty-one. The sympathy of the many personal friends in this community is extended to Mr. Smythe in his bereavement.

Success go with him wherever he goes.

DEHYDRATION PLANT

A party of Los Angeles capitalists appeared before a special meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Lankershim Monday evening asking for a factory site for a dehydration plant for the dehydrating of fruits and vegetables.

The concern desires to erect a $50,000 plant to be ready for work in sixty days. This plant will handle 100 tons of fruits and vegetables per day all the year around, employing sixty to seventy-five people. It will be necessary to have the products of 50,000 acres to keep this factory going. Potatoes, carrots, turnips, celery, peas and beans, will be wanted in large quantities. The Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of getting acreage signed. Also to secure a site and further investigate the proposition.

"Oh, I don't know. I once saw two Jew burglars trying to take money from a Scotchman!"

From all indications the dry yards and the canneries will have no trouble about securing help this summer. Many ladies and girls who have done nothing heretofore during the summer months have come to the conclusion that it is unpatriotic not to work. High school girls and many teachers will work, where they have never worked before. Many have been here securing positions this year.—Lankershim Laconic.
